

Yesterday was so very windy! I sat outside on the patio and watched the trees swirl in the wind, bending and swaying! I thought it was so interesting that on the patio, I rarely felt a touch of breeze.

It brought to mind that even in the midst of the storm, Jesus will hide us and keep the cares of life from overtaking us. Now this is contingent on if we keep ourselves hidden in Him!